

From: Alarik W. Skarstrom
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 12:20am
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear DoJ:

Your institution should properly be named the Department of Law, not Justice. It would be naive of course to identify law with justice; certainly there is much law and little justice involved in your "settlement" with Microsoft.

I am a private party, not a lawyer. I am fairly familiar with the technology world. Microsoft is a company whose behaviour, were it an individual could well have landed it in jail. That aside, your acceptance of the sheer immorality of MS's public and private actions calls into question your own ethical standards.

You should be ashamed of yourself, individually and collectively.

Regards,

Alarik W. Skarstrom